A Bill for C. N. Felton's Relief—The Naval Appropriations—Nominations by the President.

WASHINGTON, December 11.—The House Committee on Banking and Currency today adopted a resolution to request the House to set apart a day for the consideration and disposition of Chairman Dorsey's bill to reduce to $1000 the minimum amount of United States bonds which National Banks shall be required to keep on deposit, and to permit the issue of circulating notes by the National Banks to the full amount of the par value of the bonds deposited. This would, it is said, increase the amount of money in circulation by $18,000,000 and would result in the free issue of National Bank notes. When the bill comes up in the House Chairman Dorsey will move an amendment to provide for the issue of greenbacks whenever the National Bank circulation falls below $185,000,000.

WASHINGTON, December 11.—The House, on motion of McKenna of California, passed the Senate bill appropriating $10,000 to relieve Charles Felton, formerly Assistant Treasurer of the United States at San Francisco, for losses which occurred in payment of forged checks. After some unimportant business the House went into a Committee of the Whole on the Fortifications Appropriation bill.

The bill was agreed to without discussion, and, the committee being risen, the bill passed, together with a bill appropriating $100,000 to meet the deficiency in the appropriation for public printing and binding.

Sitting Bull and his followers are still keeping up the ghost dance on Grand river, but the wild enthusiasm is rapidly abating. The Major thinks that a week's more cold weather will stop the dancing. He says the reports from Standing Rock which report cattle stampeded by Indians and an exchange of shots near Buffalo Gap is a canard. No cattle have been run off by the Indians except their own stock.

CHIEF HUMP.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 11.—General Schofield today received a dispatch from General Miles of which the following is an extract: The reports from General Ruger and General Brooke are favorable. FORCIBLE ENTRY.

Parnell Breaks Into the "United Ireland" Office.

CONVERSATION THROUGH A KEYHOLE.

Parnell Addresses a Crowd in an Excited Manner—Gladstone Explains His Position.

DUBLIN, December 11.—The struggle for the possession of the United Ireland assumed a new phase this morning. Again Parnell is in possession. The opponents of Parnell, who succeeded last night in forcing an entrance into the office and destroying all the leaders prepared by Leamy, appointed yesterday to succeed Bodkin, as acting manager during the absence of William O'Brien. They left a guard in possession with orders to resist any attempt of Parnell or his friends to enter the building. This morning Parnell proceeded to the office and with the assistance of a crowd of his supporters forced open the doors and took possession. The police witnessed the affair, but did not interfere. After he succeeded in recapturing the office Parnell went to the window and addressed the crowd outside.

STATESMEN TALKING THROUGH A KEYHOLE.

To guard against any further attempt of his opponents to re-capture the office, the doors and windows were bolted and barred. When the office was secured against intruders all conversation with outsiders was carried on through the keyhole. When Parnell made his assault upon the office this morning he was armed with a crowbar, which he used in forcing the front door. In the afternoon Parnell left for Cork.

TALKING FROM A WINDOW.

After the office was taken Parnell appeared at one of the windows shouting that he would fight the battle to the last, that he would only allow the country to decide the issue and that he would submit to dictation from no man. He appeared to be fiercely excited and to have lost his usual self control.

When in company with McCough, solicitor for the National League, he drove to the railway station to take the train for Cork, crowds lined the streets and the windows of the houses were filled with spectators. He was cheered.

LONDON, December 11.—Gladstone arrived to-day at Retford depot and addressed a meeting of 2000 persons. He said that the continuance of Parnell in the leadership would be fatal to Home Rule in England, Scotland, and Wales. Parnell was no longer leader of the Irish Nationalists, who had separated themselves from him. He (Gladstone) admitted that the Irish party ought to be independent and that the consideration and settlement of this question ought to be left to them, but there was something beyond all considerations in Irish politics, namely, the great cause of Liberalism in England, Ireland and Scotland.

THE PROGRESS OF THE QUARREL.

DUBLIN, December 11.—Parnell received addresses from many branches of the National League, and at Kildare he made a speech to a crowd at the station. At Monasterevan there was an anti-Parnell demonstration when the train arrived, the President leading the opposition and cheering for O'Brien. The clergy of North Kilkenny Deanery denounced Parnell, and support the candidacy of Sir John Pope Hennessey, the parliamentary nominee of the anti-Parnell faction.

GLADSTONE'S VIEWS.

LONDON, December 11.—Gladstone subsequently addressed an audience of 5000 persons at a workshop. He said the determination of the Liberals was irrevocable. They could not undertake, effectually, to support the cause of Home Rule at the next election in connection with one particular name. He pointed out the importance of continuing the struggle for Ireland, delaring that legislation for England could not be obtained until the country had got rid of the Home Rule question.

GLADSTONE ON PARNELL.

The trouble respecting the leadership was an additional reason for granting Home Rule. Why should the English and Scotch and Welsh people depend upon the choice of an Irish leader. The confidential communications between Liberal and Home Rule parties and the conversation with Parnell at Hawarden in November, 1889, he said, were equally satisfactory to both parties. He believed

THE O'SHEA DIVORCE

Proceedings would entirely destroy the moral force needed in Ireland for anyone who would be a leading champion of the National cause. Liberals felt that in granting Home Rule they constituted the Irish leader the constitutional ruler of Ireland. The Liberals were unwilling, after what had appeared in the divorce court, relative to the private and public conduct of Parnell to make him the constitutional Governor of Ireland. It was absolutely untrue that Morley had suggested that Parnell should hold office under the British Crown before Home Rule was conceded. The Liberal party's work in Parliament was to resist coercion in Ireland, and that work was as sacred and urgent now as it had ever been, no matter who might be the leader of the Irish party.

SNEAK THIEVES AT WORK.

Nothing Too Small for the Burglars to Regard as Booty.

Mrs. Kelton's House on Fourteenth Street—A Lamp Stolen in the Darkness.

The police are having a hard time attending to the many reports of thefts by sneak thieves and petty burglaries, for two or three such complaints come in every day. On the book today was a record of a lamp having been stolen from a house on Ninth street and Fifth avenue, of an attempt to commit a burglary at a grocery on Jefferson street and of a theft from the hall of a house on Twentieth street, near Adeline street.

Burglars are also heard from with astonishing regularity. One report this morning was from Fourth street, between Brush and Market streets, where Mrs. Kelton's place was entered and $12 in coin and a quantity of trinkets were taken.

The records were hunted up, and his photograph was found, with a charge of manslaughter named in the record accompanying the picture.

BOOKS IN GOOD ORDER

The Expert's Report Given to the Grand Jury.

AFFAIRS OF THE COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE.

Robert A. Hughes, who has been engaged in making an expert examination of the books of the county officers by order of the Grand Jury, has completed his labors and this morning presented his report to the county censors.

It is understood that Mr. Hughes has found the books of the county officers in good condition, but what he has said concerning the conduct of the Clerk's office under ex-County Clerk Boardman cannot be learned. Certain it is, however, that the books of the office under County Clerk Crane are now in fine condition.

The Grand Jury this morning commenced work on the final report, and Secretary Hawkett was busily engaged all day in writing the document.

The Jury will report to Judge Gibson next week.

THAT SECOND MORTGAGE.

Wm. J. Landers Explains the Transaction With Rindespacker.

William J. Landers, of San Leandro, takes exception to the article in last evening's TRIBUNE headed "He Bought a Note" and relating to a transaction on which Mr. Landers and James N. Block had been sued by one Rindespacker, that gentleman representing that he had been deceived by being given a second mortgage instead of a first. Mr. Landers says the facts in the case are as follows:

Mr. Block and I bought a piece of property belonging to the late C. J. Stevens, through his agents, for $12,000; and while searching the title these same agents said they knew a person willing to pay $14,000 for the property, and that they would sell it for us at this figure, subject to their commissions. We consented and the parties arranged for the deed to pass direct from Stevens to the last purchaser. In the settlement we were asked to take a mortgage for $2000 and agreed to do this, provided it was the first mortgage. Being assured of this by searching the records in Oakland, we placed the mortgage on record in the utmost good faith. The county records are open to all as proof of this statement.

In a few months, and without a question arising in our minds, the note and mortgage passed, by sale, to Mr. Rindespacher, through his attorneys, and, months later, while the Stevens estate was in due course of settlement, suit was successfully brought against the property in the Superior Court of Alameda county to give first place to a mortgage given by the last purchaser to Stevens, though it was not recorded until several days after our mortgage—the legal point, apparently, being that the deed passing direct from Stevens to the last purchaser, the Stevens mortgage was, technically, a part of the purchase price, and, therefore, entitled to priority, though last of record.

This decision, if upheld in the Supreme Court, will, of necessity, disturb and disarrange the views held by savings banks and lenders of money; viz., that a mortgage first of record is, necessarily, a first lien, when it immediately follows the deed of purchase and the records show no other mortgage or lien.

NOT TO BE PROSECUTED.

Mrs. Pratt Will Not Agree to a Divorce on the Ground of Adultery.

There has been considerable speculation among those who enjoy a little scandal as to the reason why the divorce suit of George C. Pratt against Bertha Pratt was transferred for trial from the Superior Court of San Francisco to this county.

The change was made at the request of the wife.

The attorney for the defendant stated this morning that he is of the opinion that the suit will never be tried.

Mrs. Pratt has filed a demurrer to the complaint, which has been allowed to stand for months without any action being taken.

The parties have not as yet settled the dispute upon the division of the property, and this is one reason why the divorce case is not pressed.

The attorney further stated that Mrs. Pratt has absolutely refused to permit her husband to secure a divorce on the ground of adultery without a bitter contest and counter charges on her part.

If the property matters are satisfactorily adjusted she is willing to permit him to take judgment by default on the ground of desertion at the expiration of a year from the time of their separation.

GILBERT WILL EXPLAIN.

A Real Estate Transaction Which Got Him Into Trouble.

Some months ago M. B. Clason concluded that he would like to invest a little money in real estate in this city, and when he called upon A. C. Gilbert, a real estate agent, the latter informed him that he had on hand just the piece of land that would suit him. It is asserted that Gilbert said that he was agent for the man who owned the land, who resided in Philadelphia, and was the only person authorized to sell the same. Mr. Clason seemed much pleased with the property and lost no time in planking down $1000 to bind the bargain for the purchase of the land. Gilbert accepted the money, and a contract was entered into for the purchase of the land. Mr. Clason commenced to investigate a little, and, when it came to carry out the terms of the contract, he found that Gilbert could not give him a clear title to the land, and so he wanted his $1000 returned. Gilbert declined to dig up, and he was accordingly arrested on a charge of felony embezzlement. He will be given an opportunity to explain matters before Judge Gibson and a jury this afternoon.

NOT A RICH MAN.

An Estimate Made of the Value of Dr. Trembley's Estate.

Dr. J. B. Trembley was not a rich man when he died. His intimate friend, Attorney H. A. Powell, today presented for probate the will of the deceased which was made a short time before his death, and was witnessed by Mr. Powell and Dr. Pinkerton. Mr. Powell estimates that the estate is worth $15,000, and consists of real estate in this city valued at $15,000 and personal property worth $500. This is bequeathed to his widow. His land in the East is bequeathed to his son and daughter. There was some talk that the daughter might contest the will, but Mr. Powell says there is no truth in the assertion. The daughter, Mrs. Spencer, will leave for her home in Colorado in a few days.

SHERIFF VS. SHERIFF.

A Legal Contest Over the Property of W. B. Tyler, an Insolvent.

When W. B. Tyler of Alameda made an assignment of his property, a few days ago, for the benefit of his creditors, Sheriff Hale, according to law, took possession of the goods in the photographic studio in San Francisco and placed a keeper in charge. The creditors were all notified of the failure of Mr. Tyler and were informed that next Monday a meeting of the creditors will be held in Mr. Hale's office for the purpose of electing an assignee. A law suit which has been commenced today will probably stop proceedings for a time.

Just before Mr. Tyler failed one of his creditors brought an attachment suit against him and a levy was made on the goods in his place of business, and a keeper was placed in charge by Sheriff Laumeister of San Francisco.

When Sheriff Hale took possession of the place the keeper was absent, and Mr. Hale was not aware of the attachment suit, so he placed a keeper in charge to represent him. The next day both keepers put in an appearance and each claimed the right to keep possession.

Sheriff Hale, however, proposes to hold the fort, and today he brought a suit in this county against Sheriff Laumeister of San Francisco to restrain him from interfering with the keeper representing Mr. Hale. A temporary injunction has been issued and Mr. Hale is now in absolute possession of the insolvent's property.

Mrs. Fisher, after she was married, joined the church of the Seventh Day Adventists. She insisted that her husband should join the church, but not being religiously inclined he demurred. Mrs. Fisher then informed him that she would not live with any man who did not believe in her faith and thereupon separated from him and has since refused to return to his home. Fisher declined to give her money for her support because he says she gave it all to the church.

ALL FAVOR BOTH.

The West Oakland Park and the Lake Boulevard.

NO SECTIONAL STRIFE APPARENT.

Interviews Taken Hap-hazard on the Street Indicate That Both Projects Have the Same Friends.

If there is a fear among a few people of West Oakland that the citizens of central Oakland will favor the boulevard project to the exclusion of the West Oakland Park scheme, their fears are groundless. Any person who will take the pains to interview the men whom he meets on Broadway will soon ascertain that the friends of one improvement are the friends of the other, and that there is a practically unanimous opinion in favor of both. There is no sectional jealousy. The opinion is also general that work on the boulevard should be commenced as soon as possible, so as to clinch the valuable concessions made to the city.

The following interviews were taken haphazard on the street and are consequently a good indication of public opinion:

Supervisor D. C. Brown—I'm in favor of the boulevard and the appropriation of money to begin work. I'm glad to see it going ahead. I think a very fine park could be made of that unsightly, unhealthy marsh, and while the city is filled with the spirit of improvement a wide drive to connect the park with the boulevard should be constructed.

L. G. Cole—Why, fifteen or eighteen years ago I offered $[illegible] to help build that boulevard. If we had built it ten years ago we'd had 20,000 more population now. So I believe in going ahead with the work. If we don't begin now we'll be talking about it twenty-five years longer. There should be no sectionalism in it, because it is right in the heart of the city.

C. H. Lewis—I believe in filling in that marsh, though I don't believe in making a park of it. As for the boulevard and the proposition to appropriate $20,000, I'll have to pay part of the taxes, and I have no property very near the lake; but I'm for the boulevard and the appropriation, because the improvement will help the entire city. We shouldn't be jealous because somebody's property is to be greatly benefitted.

C. H. Smith—The only way to get the boulevard is to go right ahead and begin work. I'm for the appropriation. The Council is going ahead in the right way.

L. F. Farrell—By all means get to work on that boulevard. I'd almost spoil my best hat to see the first stroke of work done on it. That and the West Oakland park are just what Oakland needs. The very spending of the money necessary to do the work will be a great thing for the city. I want to see both projects go through.

Albert Brown—I'm in favor of both projects. I want to see both go through and I don't want those West Oakland people to make a mistake now and spoil both propositions. They are being placed in a false position of fighting the dredging of the lake. The Council should appropriate that money and begin work where it will save the inlet to the main sewer. One of the finest parks in the country could be made of that marsh and it would benefit the health of the entire city.

J. S. Pendleton—I'm for both the boulevard and the park. The Council should go right ahead with the lake scheme, and begin work. The marsh should be reclaimed as early as possible, so people coming into the city will get a good idea of us. That appropriation is the right way to get things started.

E. C. Chetham—I think enough work should be done on the boulevard to hold those concessions, and I'm also in favor of the West Oakland park. But the public schools should really be considered before anything more than the necessary preliminary work is done on either.

Ex-Councilman J. H. Smith—I'm for the boulevard, and favor the appropriation. That's the only way to begin. We've got to get started some time. I'm also favorable to the marsh reclamation project.

Ben Wright—I own about $25,000 worth of property, and I want to be assessed for my full share of the cost of both boulevard and park. The quicker we begin the better we'll be off. I'm heartily in favor of the appropriation to begin the work on the boulevard.

T. L. Barker—I'm for everything that is right and which will be of benefit to Oakland. So I'm for the boulevard. I think it would be one of the grandest things any city could have. Mr. Adams and his associates have done a great deal in getting the matter in its present shape. I know that from my own experience in the Council. If we'd had power at that time we'd gone ahead with the work. Certainly the work should be commenced. The West Oakland people will find that most of the marsh will have to be condemned. I'm afraid they'll run against many owners who'll hold back.

E. C. Sessions said that most assuredly the marsh should be reclaimed and the boulevard built. He considered both necessary improvements and most desirable ones.

A. Nordhausen is heartily in favor of both projects and deprecates any effort to excite a sectional jealousy which might defeat them both.

Father McNally said he felt sure there would be no sectional jealousy and no fighting between the one improvement and the other. He has not found a man who does not favor both projects, and says that whatever influence he has, will be exerted to prevent any friction.

Superintendent McClymonds—If it is necessary to spend $20,000 to clinch those concessions the money should be spent. The concessions should not lapse. I'd like to have it spent at the Twelfth street dam—or so much of it as is necessary to put that in first class condition.

IT LOOKS LIKE PARK.

HYMEN AGAIN.

Marriage of J. W. Travers and Miss E. Winkler.

PLEASING MUSIC AT THE CHURCH.

A Wedding Supper and Reception at the Galindo to Which Three Hundred Were Invited.

Surrounded by hundreds of their friends, Miss Emilie Winkler and James W. Travers were united in marriage at St. John's Episcopal Church last night by the Rev. Benjamin Ackerly. The arrangements for the nuptials were very extensive, 300 invitations being issued and in nearly every instance responded to, so the little church was completely filled. The building was handsomely decorated with palms and vines and evinced great taste on the part of those having the affair in charge.

The bridesmaids were Miss Lilian Croissant and Miss Bertha Schwein of Chico, and the groomsmen, Henry Lunstedt and Henry Dennery of San Francisco.

Shortly after 7 o'clock the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," and after the nuptial knot was tied the bridal chorus from Lucia was given by a chorus consisting of Miss Tillie Isle, Miss Flora Le Noir, Mrs. Lily Le Noir, Miss Alice Le Noir, Miss Bertha Renner, Miss Annie Lowell, and Mrs. N. L. Le Noir. The music was continued until the party had filed out of the church on their way to the Galindo, where a wedding supper was to be given and a reception held.

At the hotel, Manager Ben Wright had arranged everything in artistic style. The stairways, halls and corridors were bedecked with palms and flowers, and in the supper-room was a supper fit for Epicurus himself. Choice salads, pates, turkeys, chickens, oysters, and roasts were in profusion on artistically arranged tables, the many good things being as pleasing to the eye as they subsequently proved to be to the palate. Leone's string orchestra from San Francisco was in attendance, and the guests having arrived, the music struck up and the supper began. It was an enjoyable affair from the oysters to the coffee, and as the wines were passed around tongues were loosened and all was hilarity. Speeches of course came at the close of the banquet, Judge Gibson toasting the bride and bridegroom in very pleasing words. Just before the signal to rise was given, handsome bottles of perfume, covered with flowers, were laid by each plate, accompanied by little trays of bonbons.

The reception room was near by, and there the happy couple went and received the congratulations of their friends until a late hour. They crossed over to San Francisco on the last boat to their rooms at the Palace, and will from there go today on a honeymoon tour to Santa Cruz, Monterey, and other coast resorts.

Mr. Travers was born in this city, and is a prominent member of the N. S. G. W. The bride is also an Oaklander, for, although born Healdsburg, she has passed the last seventeen years of her life here.

Some of them to the awful death penalty. I have taken some pains to enquire about these, who for violation of the laws of their country, have been arrested, and brought up before the courts to answer for their misdeeds. And I wish to say this, that in all my investigations, I have never found in all this host of criminals a man who belonged, or ever did belong, to the Ancient Order of United Workmen."

THURSDAY.........DECEMBER 11, 1890

PARNELL appears to have taken every trick so far. He is a bigger man than old Gladstone.

THE lady who unravels Browning might, as it seems, find permanent employment in Oakland. Will she be good enough to answer the question "Who bought the California and Nevada?"

THE Lorin Tablet has a weather prophet who claims to have foretold the storm of last week, and he now rashly risks his earned glory by predicting another along about Sunday or Monday, with a holiday revival at the end of the month. Thanks.

The Fresno Budget complains because the city fathers of that place allowed the item, "Mike Hastings, hauling drunks, $6," and intimates that it is the custom of the aristocratic Fresnonian, when he gets comfortably crapulous, to be hauled home in a cab, while the editor of the Budget must walk—if he can.

GOVERNOR WATERMAN says in an interview printed in the Call:

> Another thing is this pardon business. I have signed three or four pardons today and my only regret is that my time is too limited to do entire justice to all the innocent men who are now in our penitentiaries. I am going through the papers as rapidly as possible, however, and shall pardon the boys as fast I can convince myself of the merits of the various cases.

All the same we don't want those innocents abroad.

THE Berlin correspondent of the Medical Record writes: "The excitement here over the new treatment of tuberculosis is so great, the expectations for its success in everything of a tuberculous nature is so unlimited, that it is at present difficult—one might better say it is impossible—to come to any intelligent conclusion as to its value or its limits. Furthermore, it has been under trial for too short a time, as the treatment was begun here less than two months ago in Dr. Levy's private hospital. Conservative men, however—many of them—think that the reaction will come sooner or later, as the popular expectations concerning it are altogether too extravagant. Still, results may be seen here daily which are simply amazing to the most incredulous."

They Stand or Fall Together.

The intelligent sentiment of the people, so far as it has been expressed, strongly indorses the action of the City Council in taking steps to appropriate $20,000 to make a beginning on the work of the boulevard. Occasional hasty opinions have been thrown out against the measure, but we believe they came, for the most part, from persons who have not taken pains to understand the present aspect of the situation. Here are certain valuable concessions made to the city under a time limit. The city takes steps to make a beginning of the work by a small appropriation from the funds raised by direct taxation. There is no idea of completing the work in that way, for a moment's consideration will show that the boulevard could not possibly be completed within the six years' limit of the concession with the small sums that could be appropriated annually from the City Treasury. This step makes a beginning. The issue of bonds comes next, and it will come just as soon as the people of West Oakland put their proposition in a tangible shape so that some estimate of the amount of money needed can be made. The two propositions will be submitted jointly as it is obvious that neither could be carried without the other.

An Oakland Clergyman's Opinions.

The Rev. Frank Dixon, the versatile young pastor of an East Oakland Baptist Church, writes to the Examiner, of New York, the leading organ of his denomination, concerning Oakland thus:

> It would be a difficult matter to make an Oaklander confess that there might be a spot on this globe or any other, in this solar system or another system, in the material or immaterial universe, that might by any sane man be preferred to his city as a place of residence. Strangers might be at a loss to account for this local pride and patriotism, and their perplexity would probably be increased when they found that every other man outside of Oakland was equally ready and determined to swear by his town or city or county. "Most beautiful towns" are about as numerous here as "incomparable preachers" are in some sections of the Southeast. It seems to be a point of honor with each man to sound the praises of his own town.

We have sometimes felt that if there were more of this feeling which Mr. Dixon describes as characteristic of the people of Oakland it might be a good thing. As a matter of fact, the resident of Oakland cares less for his town and less for its prosperity than the resident of almost any other place with which we have any acquaintance. It is this feeling of local pride—call it provincialism, if you will—which has done so much for Los Angeles. Pace, Mr. Dixon, we want some more of it.

Mr. Dixon goes on to make charges against the people of California of wholesale lying about the climate. It is scarcely worth while to follow him in this. When he gets a little older he will learn more sobriety of statement, and will not be so ready to make himself so obnoxious to the same charges which he so glibly makes in regard to others.

Mr. Dixon appears to be relating a personal experience, in an impersonal way, in the following passage:

> This coast is an interesting study from whatever point we view it; but a mind that delights in the investigation of anomalies and monstrosities would probably find deeper and more prolonged satisfaction in the religion of the West than in anything else. Many cranks came from the East most likely, but no matter whence they came, they reached here. No development of ignorant religion and superstition yet known is too extravagant or absurd to find a hospitable home on this coast. There are people who believe every mad pretension of fanaticism of which they have ever heard, and are only longing for something wilder and more insane in folly. These people can scarcely be kept out of churches either. The church offers a wider and more accessible field for them than they can find elsewhere. Many of them succeed, by the display of a pious zeal, in identifying themselves with the body of a church, only to feast, sooner or later, upon its carcass. How many a poor church in California has been torn to atoms in one way or another! How few churches in this state have not at some point in their brief experience, trembled upon the verge of dissolution, and how blessed would have been the result, one is tempted to think, if more had toppled! Sometimes a church plays into the devil's hand by living. And yet, there are so few, after all, how could any be spared? The day will come, Christians hope, when God shall possess them. Various causes, internal and superadded, have hindered the growth of the church, and they are not all removed yet. We suppose that many of them will only be removed, as many of the perplexing features of the negro problem in the south will be, by the death of those who discover these perplexities. Death is the only hope for many a church in this State—the death of disturbing elements.

These are extraordinary opinions for a clergyman. "These people can scarcely be kept out of church," he says. Is the church, then, become so exclusive a body that it has no shelter for people who happen to be in earnest, even if mistaken?

"Sometimes a church plays into the devil's hand by living," goes on Mr. Dixon. Mr. Dixon should give the name. We hope he does not refer to the Tenth Avenue Baptist Church, which, we believe, is the only one he has been concerned with since his arrival in California.

Not For Sale.

Comment has been free upon the real or implied objects which induced the Hawaiian King to visit the United States. The most plausible reason given was that in the interests of his subjects he wished to form closer commercial relations with the best friends and customers of his island kingdom, either by absolute reciprocity or by such adjustments of dues and duties as would benefit the struggling people of the islands. It is a known fact that the population of the group is less than it was half a century ago. Kalakaua sees the inevitable fate of his countrymen by birth unless the powerful aid of some great nation comes to their relief. What this relief may be or who shall give it is to be seen. Certainly it should be some power that can enforce the absolute exclusion of the Chinese and secure education and fair dealing with the natives.

It is an interesting spot on the world's map, that little group of tropical islands, and it would disgrace and shame humanity if it were permitted to lapse into that condition which overtook Hayti and Santa Domingo. This the king, who is a liberal minded man, willing and anxious to adopt reforms, will avoid by all means in his power.

The story that he came on a mission in which he contemplated the sale of the kingdom to the United States is absurd and is entirely unworthy of attention. The sale of a kingdom must necessarily contemplate an authorized receiver of the purchased money.

MEN AND WOMEN.

C. A. Covalt is at Fresno.

William Letts Oliver is seriously ill.

Ferdinand and J. Fassault will soon leave for Tacoma.

Judge Ogden has returned from a duck hunt at Roberts Island.

H. L. Adams of this city has been appointed a Notary Public.

Thomas Bennett returned last night after a six months' absence in the East on insurance business.

Dr. Wythe will deliver a free lecture Friday evening in San Francisco at the Central M. E. Church on "The Story of an Old Stump."

Senator-elect Eli S. Denison and Sheriff W. E. Hale leave for Los Angeles tomorrow. They will attend the reception to Governor Markham during their stay there this week.

E. H. Farmer has just returned from Folsom Prison with an admirable collection of views of the interior of the Penitentiary. He was permitted to take them only on condition that he destroy the negatives after making two impressions—one for himself and the other for the Warden. Mr. Farmer's brother is Chief of the Guard.

PLACES AND POLITICIANS.

The rumor is rife that Harry M. Tod, of the San Francisco Call, who accompanied Colonel Markham during a portion of his canvass as telegraphic reporter for that paper, is to have the place of executive secretary, with its accompanying stipend of $2000 per annum; but in view of certain facts it is not believed, says the Los Angeles Times, that such is really the case. It is not believed, among those who know best, that Colonel Markham could afford to make the appointment, and it is deemed very probable that a young single gentleman from California will be selected. Tod has been in California some eight months, and the rule has been heretofore that a man must at least have been in the State long enough to be a voter before he can hope for anything very lucrative in the way of appointments.

The position of Harbor Commissioner is one much sought after, and Sam M. Thornton, of San Francisco, is said to have the call for the shoes now filled by "Bill" English, but C. F. Bassett, Secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, has his eye on the office.

Harry Morehouse stands an excellent chance, it is said, to be the attorney or Board of Harbor Commissioners, as he did grand service for the Governor-elect during the campaign.

A Still Alarm.

The Sixth street fire engine responded yesterday evening to a small fire in a shooting gallery on Broadway, between Sixth and Seventh streets. The damage was slight.

NOT THE OWNER NOW

Captain Smith Has Sold His Railroad Stock.

THE OLD CARS ON THE LOCAL ROUTE.

The Cost of Repainting and Repairing the Cars Used in the Trains on Seventh Street.

Captain J. W. Smith is happy. He has stirred up a hornet's nest on the latest California and Nevada Railroad deal, and he has made people talk, and, consequently, he is pleased.

"We made 'em talk a little," said the Captain. "Just those few words made a whole lot of noise and set all these fellows to guessing. I see that they have guessed nearly everything, from the Atchison road down to the Southern Pacific Company. They are a great lot of guessers out here, particularly on railroad stories."

"What is the latest in regard to the road?"

"There is nothing new. You know, I am not connected with the road any more. I don't know anything about it."

"Is the company going to hold a meeting and turn the affairs over to the new owners?"

"I don't know. I am not connected with the road any more. It wouldn't be very hard work to hold a meeting at any time, for the officers all live close together."

"What are the new owners doing?"

"Nothing. They have made me an offer for the ferry company. I was the only one who put up any money for that, and they want my interest in that as well as the railroad."

THE OLD COACHES

Unwieldy, Inconvenient Trains While the Local Cars Are Repairing.

The Southern Pacific Company is making its annual cleaning of the local trains. This operation will take three months, during which time the train of old-fashioned, disreputable main line coaches will be run. The Southern Pacific Company built just thirty of the special local cars, wider and lower than a main line coach. This was just enough for the three trains run, and more have never been built. When these cars are in the shop the company has to fall back on the old main line coaches.

This train of old coaches is not only very inconvenient for passengers, but it is also very inconvenient for the trainmen. Eleven of these coaches are run to a train, and then they can only accommodate as many passengers as eight of the local cars. This makes a very unwieldy train, that is hard for the engineers to manage, and during the heavy travel in the evening it causes delay.

It will cost $3750 to repaint the local cars, at $125 a car. When this is done, however, they will be as good as new. Master Car Repairer Ludlow has a plan for repairing them, putting new ventilators in the roof and making other improvements, but that will cost $200 per car additional, bringing the entire cost up to $9750.

Headlight Flashes.

The dining-car service of the Southern Pacific Company was begun yesterday. Dining cars are attached to the overland trains at Truckee and run to Wells and return.

The overland travel in and out of the pier during November consisted of 8751 west-bound passengers and 4671 east-bound. In November, 1889, the arrivals were 8730 and the departures 4628. The totals for the first eleven months of the year compare as follows: 1888—Arrived, 90,570; departed, 89,080. 1889—Arrived, 86,461; departed, 87,259. 1890—Arrived, 74,912; departed, 58,095.

The Southern Pacific Company has handled 2800 carloads of deciduous fruit this season.

There is five feet of snow on the mountains.

JUSTICE TO MR. NEALE,

The Competent Deputy, Who Successfully Managed Registration.

To the Editor of The Tribune—SIR: In justice to C. L. Neale, one of the deputies employed in the County Clerk's office, who was mentioned in last evening's TRIBUNE in connection with several other deputies about to be dismissed for inattention to duty, it is but just to say that Mr. Neale has, at all times, since his employment by the Board of Supervisors attended strictly to business, and has performed whatever work he has been assigned to do with neatness and dispatch and in a thoroughly competent manner.

Mr. Neale had charge of the late registration and although somewhat handicapped by inexperienced help at the beginning, by painstaking and untiring energy, made the registration a complete success, sending out the supplies to the ninety-seven election precincts in good order and justly meriting the unqualified approval of the entire Board of Supervisors of this county.

A Bay Collision.

The ferry steamer Alameda and the schooner Robert and Minnie collided yesterday morning in the bay, and the steamer had a paddle-box wrecked and the schooner lost her headgear. The vessel was in tow of the tug Ida W., which stuck in the mud, and the schooner swung around and crashed into the ferryboat as she was entering the slip.

Cut His Foot.

While Patrick Burke of Emeryville was chopping wood yesterday his ax slipped and penetrated one of his shoes, gashing the foot. Dr. O. E. Adams dressed the wound.

THE ETCHING EXHIBIT

Now to be Seen at Whittier, Fuller & Co.'s Art Rooms.

During the next three days Whittier, Fuller & Co. will have on exhibition at their art store on Twelfth street, between Broadway and Franklin street, a very fine exhibition of etchings. The collection, some 400 in number, comprises very many of the latest and best works of the etcher's art. There is also in the exhibit several very finely executed steel engravings and mezzotints. The etchings are by the best American artists, and are all remarque proofs. The subjects comprise figure, landscape and shipping scenes.

The pictures have been taken out of their cases and hung about the art room in such a manner that the connoisseur may be given every opportunity to view and judge the merit of each. The one etching which first strikes the eye is one by William Bradford, "In the Arctic Ice Fields." Mr. Bradford's Arctic scenes have made him famous in America, as well as in the old world, and this new work from his hand is pronounced equal, if not superior to any which preceded it. To the tyro in art this picture, painted on parchment, is particularly pleasing. The etching is reproduced from a painting by the author, and was taken from life. "A Moment's Rest," by G. Mercier, is another etching of striking interest and fine execution. It is a picture of American life and character and as such the attention of the art lover is immediately attracted. Among the photo-gravures, "Constancy," in which figure the venerable and benevolent Mr. Pickwick, Tony and Sam Weller, is the one which first catches the interest and eye of the beholder. Mr. Pickwick, as well as the two Wellers, are always welcome. In "Constancy" they are doubly so.

Messrs. Whittier, Fuller & Co. are to be congratulated and they truly deserve large patronage for having brought to Oakland so magnificent a collection of works of art. Among the exhibit there will also be found a collection of Prang's cards for the holidays as well as many other things of beauty in the artistic line.

THE RELIANCE CLUB.

The Date of the Ladies' Night Soon to Be Announced.

The directors of the Reliance Athletic Club decided last evening to make arrangements, not only for a whist tournament, but also for a euchre and cribbage tournament, and to offer prizes for the winners of each one of these contests. Committees were appointed last evening to make arrangements for these games and also for a ladies' night. These committees will report next week the dates for all of these entertainments.

A number of new members are being received during the time of the reduction of the initiation fee to $5.

DRIVING OVER FIRE HOSE.

An Expressman Sentenced to Pay $30 for the Offense.

Edward Janvrin, the expressman who drove over the hose at the Tenth street fire last week, was tried this morning for violating an ordinance in doing so. His defense was that he was driving an unmanageable horse and that he was unable to back up when the fireman requested him to turn. The prosecution showed, however that he did not attempt to get out of the way and the defendant was fined $30 with the alternative of thirty days in jail.

POCKET-PICKING AT THE PIER

Ulrich, the Man Whose Name Was on Many Writs of Habeas Corpus.

Has a Court Clerk Authority to Issue a Complaint in a Charge of Felony?

It is astonishing how many people make a practice of attending the Police Court every morning and listening to the cases. The same faces are to be seen morning after morning, some of the visitors having seats which they occupy as regularly as the Magistrate on the bench. This morning they were on hand earlier than usual, for they keep close track of the important cases and they knew that the examination of Ulrich, the man accused of picking pockets at Oakland pier, would come up today. A number of irregulars also dropped in to witness the proceedings in the case, so there was a crowded house when Judge Henshaw took the bench. The drunk cases and other minor cases were soon disposed of, and then came the piece de resistance.

"John Ulrich!" called Police Clerk O'Brien, and there was a general lengthening of necks as the defendant stepped out of the dock and took a seat by the side of his attorney, Mr. Coffey. The complaint having been read, Mr. Coffey opened the ball by moving for a dismissal of the proceedings on statutory grounds. He said that, at his request, Judge Murphy of San Francisco had remanded the prisoner on Monday last so that the question could be decided as to the power of a clerk of a police court to administer an oath to a complaining witness in a felony case. Mr. Coffey contended that the authority was vested in a magistrate alone, and quoted from the statutes in support of his position.

Judge Henshaw however denied the motion, whereupon the defense announced that the matter would be taken to the Supreme Court for decision. A motion to continue the examination was next made, but denied, so the taking of testimony began.

Mrs. Friedman was the first witness put on the stand by the prosecution. She told how she and her husband had visited Oakland pier on the night in question for the purpose of traveling north. Mr. Friedman had gone inside a sleeper to get a berth, leaving her outside. Two men, one of whom she identified as Ulrich, then crowded against her and afterwards she missed her purse. The two men were pursued and one (the defendant) was caught.

Under a rigorous cross-examination by Attorney Coffey, Mrs. Friedman, however, broke down considerably. She described the man who she said was Ulrich as having dark hair and being short, heavy set and wearing a thick blonde moustache, whereas the defendant is exactly the opposite to her description. She also admitted not having used her purse since morning, and although she first said she always carries it in her side pocket, she admitted looking into her satchel after the larceny, thinking it might be there. As to the other of the two men, she was more certain that she knew him than that she knew Ulrich, but she subsequently, at the pier, picked out a wrong man for the one she said she would recognize.

Pat Butler, a railroad watchman, next testified that he had joined in the chase when the news of the theft was spread about, and had found Ulrich in the closet of one the cars. The missing purse was near by.

Other railroad men then took the stand and furnished cumulative evidence, and the hour of noon having arrived, continuance was taken to 1:30 P. M.

Ulrich himself denied that he had committed the theft.

The defendant was held to answer, with bail fixed at $2000.

DUARTE'S DOLLARS.

He Parted With Two Hundred of Them Very Easily.

Antone Duarte, the proprietor of the Ashland Saloon, near San Leandro, is mourning the loss of $200 and is hunting for the city chap who "cinched" him. A few nights ago, a young man accompanied by a young woman, drove up in front of his place behind a fine team of bay horses.

"How much do you want for the team?" said Duarte, merely to make conversation.

The young man replied that he was just driving down the road to a friend's house to try to sell the team, and as he was going East on the following day he was willing to sacrifice the horses and buggy for almost any price.

"I'll take $200 for the outfit and deliver the goods now," said the smooth young man.

Duarte couldn't give him the money quick enough. The bargain was made, and the fellow and his girl walked down the road, apparently going to the friend's house.

Duarte placed the team in his barn and went to bed, rejoicing over the great bargain he had made. When he went out in the morning to look at his fine horses, they were gone. The fellow had stolen them during the night. Duarte has reported the matter to the Sheriff's office, and is anxious to find the thief.

ROYALTY AT BERKELEY.

Professor Martin Kellogg, Acting President of the State University, this morning notified the students that at 2 P. M. tomorrow his Majesty Kalakaua, King of Hawaii, will review the University Battalion at Berkeley.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

William H. Martha, the former driver for the Troy Laundry Company, who is charged with embezzling collections, had his case in the Police Court continued to December 27th.

Mary Sawyer was mute this morning when she was ordered to stand up in the Police Court dock for sentence for vagrancy. She was sentenced to serve thirty days. The jailers state that she is in a fearfully dirty condition, being reeking with vermin and disease. A few years ago she was a respectable woman with a family and good connections, who have, however, now disowned her. Drink did it.

The San Francisco police yesterday arrested a young man named Noble, who had a quantity of brass and nickel faucets in his possession that are believed to have been stolen from this city.

Want to Remedy the Evil.

Thomas F. Clark, Thomas Clark and Ed J. Clark, the three San Francisco plumbers charged with violating the plumbing ordinance, have obtained a continuance of their cases in the Police Court to the 15th inst. They want an opportunity to remedy the defects in their work that was not satisfactory to the Plumbing Inspector.

He is Not Dangerous.

J. A. Jensen was examined before the Lunacy Commissioners this afternoon and discharged as he was deemed not dangerous to be at large.

The Crowley Case.

Michael Crowley, the defaulting deputy entered a plea of not guilty this morning and his trial was set by the jury for January 6th.

THE OPTION COMMITTEE.

Prospects Favorable to the Commencement of the West Oakland Park.

Last evening the Option Committee of the West Oakland Improvement Association held a meeting at the residence of Colonel John P. Irish and prepared the following report of work done and facts ascertained toward the consummation of the parking project:

J. S. Emery offers to donate his land, five or six blocks.

James de Fremery, who is in Europe, wrote last summer that the city could have his land in the marshes for park purposes at a price to be fixed by the city, and his agents say that he will also contribute liberally to assist the project.

The Oakland Paving Company, made up of Messrs. Palmer, Eastman, Blake and another gentleman whose name was not learned, say they will give five or six blocks for what it cost them.

The Oakland Bank of Savings, Mr. Sessions President, owns several blocks. Some of the directors were seen, but could say nothing definite until after a meeting, to be held Monday, but declared that they would not stand in the way of the park by demanding a profit on their investment.

Charles Camden, owner of one block, says he will figure what it cost him and will sell reasonably.

A. J. Snyder, who owns several acres, will sell for what it cost him. Moreover, he says he has on hand considerable property which he controls by a power of attorney, and will dispose of it in the same way.

Max Greenhood speaks like a public spirited man, and will sell very reasonably, and has already written to his partner in the tract, Mr. Lipman of San Diego, to secure his consent also.

The following notice had been prepared and was given for publication: "The owners of the marsh property in West Oakland, which is to be abated as a nuisance and improved as a park, will greatly aid the committee and enable it to promptly meet the wishes of the City Council by delivering their options to Mr. Anthony, Chairman of the Option Committee of the West Oakland Improvement Association, at his office, 466 Ninth street. The owners are expected to co-operate with the committee, as they are interested in the abatement of a nuisance of which they and the people are common victims.

PICKETS OF THE STRIKERS

Ready to Give Information to Any Workmen That May Be Imported.

The Judson Company Advertising in Pittsburg for New Iron-workers.

The peace at the Judson Iron Works, Emeryville, where the ironworkers are on a strike, is still maintained, and policeman Tom Downey, who is stationed in front of the Judson Works, has all he can do to keep warm when the sun gets in the west.

The strikers appear confident, although they did not succeed inducing any more of the new workmen to leave the works.

President Mullander, of the striking union, received a communication from the union in Pittsburg, asking if there was a strike here. The Judson Company has been advertising for ironworkers there and none will come if they know there is a strike out here. President Mullander will communicate immediately with the Pittsburg union, giving an account of the condition of things at this place.

The strikers have pickets stationed at B street and Sixteenth street stations, as well as at Emeryville, as it is rumored that a carload of men will arrive here in a day or two for the Judson Works.

The strike was indorsed last evening by the Plasterer's Union and the Plumbers' Union of Oakland.

The officials of the company state that they have nothing to say, that they are perfectly satisfied with the present outlook, and that they will get men in due time.

DREW A KNIFE.

A Sailor Makes a Savage Attack on Tom Ward, His Benefactor.

A few days ago Tom Ward of Eighteenth and Kirkham streets, who manages a gang of men for Superintendent of Streets Wall, employed a sailor named Henry Camos to work around his house. He put the man at work more for charity than anything else, for Camos told a pitiful story.

At noon today as Ward came up to his lunch he was met by Camos, who had quit work during the morning. The sailor demanded a settlement at once and Ward said he would pay him as soon as he could fix the amount due. The next thing that happened was that Camos struck Ward a violent blow on the cheek and followed it up by drawing a big sheath-knife and making for him. Bystanders interfered and the sailor was overpowered and taken to the police station, where he was charged with an assault with a deadly weapon.

CAUGHT ON THE TRAIN.

A Man Alleged to be a Defaulter From Visalia Arrested.

Chief of Police Tompkins this morning received a telegram from Sheriff Overall of Visalia asking him to arrest a man named A. S. McDonald who was on the north bound train that would arrive this morning. His description was given, so Detectives Shorey and Holland went to the train and arrested him. McDonald, who is a young man, explained that he had been in business at Visalia and that there was trouble about the settlement.

A Piece of Spite Work.

Dennis O'Day is wildly endeavoring to get a complaint against Mr. Theobald, Secretary of the Humane Society, on the ground that he, in the guise of a cattle dealer, entered his house and stole a $20 gold piece. Prosecuting Attorney Church declines, however, to issue the complaint, as he thinks that the charge is merely a matter of spite work on the part of O'Day, who recently was convicted of cruelty to animals.

Necrology.

Flemena Dias, the little daughter of Joseph Dias of East Oakland, was buried yesterday from the home of her parents, 608 East Thirteenth street.

Edwin L. Smith died yesterday at the Hotel Merritt. He was the father of Mrs. Eugene B. Beck of 1339 Alice street and was 79 years of age. The funeral will not take place until a son arrives from Astoria, Oregon.

Gano's Case.

The San Francisco ex-police sergeant, Gano, pleaded not guilty this morning in the Police Court to the charge of battery on Byron Snell, preferred against him yesterday afternoon, and asked for a trial at once. The witnesses were not present, however, and the case went over until tomorrow.

A Serious Matter.

Morris Heiman, a well-known young dry goods clerk, had a tooth extracted a few days ago, and as the bleeding did not stop as soon as usual he consulted the dentist again. While in the office he fainted from the loss of blood, and it required the services of a physician to revive him. He is now at his home on Third street, very weak from the loss of blood.

Albion Lodge Entertainment.

Albion Lodge, Order Sons of St. George, will give tonight at Simmons's Hall, Twelfth street, near Franklin, one of its popular and pleasant musical entertainments, which will conclude with a social dance. An excellent musical programme has been arranged.

There will be good music. A collection will be taken for the benefit of the Sunday School Christmas fund.

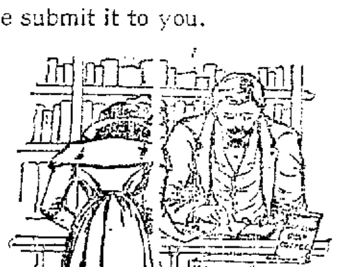
Facts and Figures

MANY persons who put up with miserable coffee, imagine they are economical and that really good coffee is too expensive. Listen! A cup of rich, fragrant and invigorating coffee, made from the best roasted bean, costs less than a cent. Poor low-priced coffee cannot make a good cup of coffee—it has little of the valuable elements of coffee in it. Yet it costs nearly as much as the best. Now! Which is the most satisfactory and most truly economical? The best—of course. We submit it to you.



SCHILLING'S BEST is a blend of choice coffees, combining the richest flavor, greatest strength, true economy. It costs more than poorer goods—but it does more—does it better. It shows greater value. Test it and see.

THE FOOTBALL KICKERS.

The Oakland Team Will Tackle the Presidio Soldiers.

Saturday next, the Oakland Football Club will try conclusions with a team from United States Troop I, at the Presidio, kicking off at 3:45 P. M. The Oakland club has been strengthened greatly by four new members who have intimated their wish to play. They are all players of note; one having played in the Princeton eleven and is a 200 pounder; one from the University of California team of a few years back; one was the celebrated half-back of the crack team of Oakland; and the other is a new arrival from England, who played in one of the International matches between England and Scotland and was regular player (half-back) in the "London-Scottish," the most famous team in the south of England.

Delegates from all the football clubs in Alameda County, will meet in the Oakland Young Men's Christian Association parlors. Tuesday, the 16th inst., to discuss the game.

A FAIRY TALE.

The Pretty Little Piece of Fiction Going the Rounds of the Press.

The following story, which first appeared in an unknown quarter, is faithfully going the rounds of the Eastern press:

The old traveler was in the story-telling mood and spun this yarn: "Lying in a deep ravine in the mountains of Santa Clara county, Cal., is the little village of New Almaden. So narrow is the gulch that only one street is possible. and down the length of this ripples a stream of limpid water, fresh from mountain snows. Flowers throng along the roadsides, and the roses fling themselves over the sides of the adobe houses.

"High up on the mountain is the entrance to the quicksilver mines, from which the village takes its name. Up the keen slope, in the sultry mornings. the miners take their way in heavy-footed bands, and plunge into the bowels of the earth. Beside the quicksilver there are other products—Mexican children and rattlesnakes. It is necessary to set sharp pointed stones on the threshhold of each house to keep out the serpents.

"One day a Mexican mother sat her little dusky daughter on the floor, and went out to bake her bread in the brick oven, which several of the neighbors used in common. She was gone some time, and when she came back she found her baby surrounded with the beautiful reptiles—beautiful and hideous things which filled the room. Paralyzed with terror, she could not speak or move. And the little one was in ecstacy. It gave vent to little rapturous cries. Its black eyes danced with happiness. She played with the glittering things and let them enwrap her. Not one of them tried to harm her, They treated her with something like reverence.

"At last, with a scream of desperation the mother snatched up her protesting baby and called for help. The big miner woman drove out the intruders amid the lamentations of the baby. And afterward, from childhood to maidenhood this girl could wander at will through the canyon, without fear of molestation from any reptile, and the miners crossed themselves when they saw her, and said that she bore a charmed life."

Dietz's License.

The license of "Dietz's saloon" owned by Hugo Fuegel, on Webster and Twelfth streets, expires on the 30th inst., and there is liable to be some trouble in the Council about its renewal, owing to the charges made by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Haywards.

Journal.

Mrs. G. F. Crowell and son, Otto. have been in Paris for the last six months past.

C. D. Everett and family have moved into Mrs. W. Cox's residence in Castro valley.

Eden Parlor, No. 113, Native Sons of the Golden West, elected the following new officers Tuesday evening, to be installed the second Tuesday in January: Past President, J. E. Geary; President, N. McConaghy; First Vice-President, E. K. Strobridge; Second Vice-President, W. E. Bellina; Third Vice-President, Fred Russell; Recording Secretary, Dr. A. J. Powell; Financial Secretary, A. J. Roberts; Marshal, Ed Brown.

A middle-aged woman came to Haywards last Wednesday. She acted in a very peculiar manner, and being without money was too proud to ask for assistance, and attempted to sleep in various barns. Marshal Ramage discovered her and took her to Austin's Hotel, where she was provided with a bed and food. Next day she continued her strange conduct, so it was decided to take her to Oakland and test her soundness of mind. She was brought to the County Jail Friday, and when the facts of the case were known she was kindly taken care of by the Chabot Sheltering Home of Oakland. Her name is Mrs. Ethel White, and her husband lives in San Jose. He cruelly cast her off, and she has ever since been a wanderer.

THE GREAT SALE BOWLING ALONG!

JAS. A. JOYCE!

Gigantic and Overwhelming Crash in Prices!

In these days of broad advertising when the world is flooded with cartoons and exaggerated statements, how refreshing it is to notice a bona-fide occasion for important announcements. The progressive overtures of today slash the old-time methods. The strides of trade are bigger and bolder than of yore. Amplitude of ideas marks American instinct and progress. Thus, advancing with the period, I am showing the Oakland public what can be done in the way of a Big Bargain Sale. The store jammed with favors presents a brilliant opportunity for fall purchasers. The goods are rolling in, marvelous values strewn from end to end of the aisles, no fear of high rates, no fear of worthless goods, though I am underselling all others. Divest yourself of the idea that because the prices are so low that therefore the offerings are trash. Not a bit of it! Here is a collection grand as the ocean! Prices scattered like spray! The enormous shipments, the throngs of buyers, the hum of business makes the goods spin. Now is the time to buy during such exhilarating reductions. The people glory in the harvest they are scooping in. Take the abstract below for what it is worth. Throw the advertisement aside if it doesn't interest you, but come and see us. No stereotyped price lists. Figures at the lowest ebb. Take nothing unless it suits you. The small purse is as welcome as the big one. Economy reigns on our counters. Plain statements. We care not if others emulate the example. Santa Claus is coming. We are getting ready.

MOST POPULAR DRY GOODS STORE IN OAKLAND.

OPEN EVENING UNTIL JANUARY 1st.

City of Greybeards.

City o' graybeards, health and wealth,
Truedam's and bonnie lasses,
And sons obedient to their sires,
Six things no town surpasses.
And dan my kilt when I looked round,
I like to see your faces,
They are so much like those I found,
Put me to work in traces.

Whose spirit kindled in the soul,
That gratitude that thank't?
The giver who the gifts let fall
On those who cross'd Atlantic,
And wandered here by overland,
Or round the Horn that ventured,
To fair Pacific's sea-bound land,
God's Paradise was rendered.

And here in gait and social glee
Some grace I saw in sisters.
These gems were ever dear to me,
Here see the same in others,
As from the fruit that grows on trees,
To scripture wisdom's likened;
When I look round our street- and see
On graybeards virtues ripened,

While at my leisure sauntering round
Among the diff'rent places
Of arts and science men are found,
By which they earned their graces,
And some kind smiles in women see,
Langsyne I saw in mother
Revives the duty's, calls the free,
Whose grandeurs world's wonder.

With this exception high-toned frills,
Now paints and powders lasses,
While some procedure move the quills
That pictures modern asses.
Results from these conclusions find,
From impulse of the core,
It's common sense adorns mankind
Now, as in the days of yore.

Some life within our bosoms thump,
For which all mortals hanker.
That cling to grey men's canty stump,
Bewitched auld Tam O Shanter.
With time that's skipping on the wing,
That neither drives nor coax's,
Nor stops when its death's grapple fling
Into the redwood boxes.

J. E. Boyd has been annoyed lately by schoolboys running through his front yard and jumping over the fence to get to school. A fine cement sidewalk was laid in front of the school grounds for the use of the school children as well as the general public and they should show their appreciation by using it rather than trespassing upon private property.

Judge Welcker intends to set all cases which have been continued from time to time before him. There are several cases of violation of the liquor license ordinance which were to be set on dates decided upon by both attorneys, but the attorneys have failed to make any report. Edwin Davies, it will be remembered, was fined $20 a few days ago by Judge Welcker. He paid $11 of the amount and promised to pay the remainder the day after he was sentenced. His bondsmen guaranteed payment, but the fickle Edwin failed to make his appearance thereafter. His bondsmen were John E. The people living in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth street and Twenty-third avenue are circulating a petition asking the Council to permit them to cut down some of the large eucalyptus trees growing in the vicinity, as the roots choke the sewers and the wells. They have also grown to such a height that the sun does not reach some of the dwellings and the ground is continually damp.

Chief of Police Tompkins has made some changes in the hours of police patrol duty, so that the ward is covered by at least two officers throughout the night. Under the new rule, which began today, the officers report at 7 P. M., and remain on duty until 5 A. M., reporting off at the East Oakland Engine House instead of at the City Hall. For this new rule the Chief is highly commended in East Oakland.

Chapman, while District Attorney Reed appeared for the people. There will be a big protest from the property owners on Pacific avenue against granting the franchise asked for by Messrs. McNear, Coleman and McElrath of Oakland for an electric railroad on that avenue. The avenue has just been paved, at a big expense, and is undoubtedly the best improved street as well as the longest in Alameda. The property owners are not willing that it should be torn up to lay down a track.

The identity of "Aneleh," over which nom de plume verses have appeared in the San Francisco Sunday Call for the past year and more, has been the source of much wonder among the residents of Alameda. It has been learned that she is Miss Helen M. Tucker, who lived for many years on Central avenue, near Twenty-third street, and who now lives on San Antonio avenue.

R. B. Tappan returned yesterday from Tacoma. The Northwest proved a revelation to him, and he speaks in glowing terms of the enterprise exhibited there. Mr. Tappan, having got a taste of travel, has projected a trip around the world, and hopes to start on it within two years. He has always had a horror of traveling on the ocean, but is now willing to risk the dangers of the deep, so enjoyable does he find sight-seeing.

A man named Herman Junghans, while trying to navigate himself with a bottle of absinthe on board, jumped from the local train at Schiller street yesterday while it was in motion. Result—a broken nose, a cut on the forehead, two broken teeth, and other external injuries. He is a young man not long from Denmark, and has been employed as a bartender in a Grand street saloon, but lost his position because of his drinking habit.

Constable Morris saw a man and a boy acting in a suspicious manner yesterday at the West end, and took them into custody. They were placed in separate cells and questioned, and each denied knowing the other. Finally the boy admitted that he knew the man, but told several contradictory stories as to why they came to Alameda. The officers were convinced that it was for no good purpose, and they were charged with vagrancy. The man gave the name of Thomas Jones, and the boy William Griffin.
